COOPER SCOOP-ER

The MAD office is usually filled with dweebs, geeks, hacks and fanboys! (And that's just the staff!) But frequently we'll walk out of our office and BAM! there's someone cool there! Such was the case the other day when who should be lurking around our hallowed halls but legendary rocker Alice Cooper! (No relation to mediocre MAD writer Russ Cooper!) We still don't know why he showed up and choked our Alfred statue, but we're certainly glad he did, given that the only other person to show up that day was equally mediocre MAD writer Butch "The Westchester Weasel" D'Ambrosio. Hello, slumberland! Fa fal!

"CORN AIR"

In Issue #360 you had a satire of the movie Con Air. You had Nicolas Cage say that he has a five-year-old daughter and he is serving a ten-year prison sentence. Well, if you had even seen the movie you would know his daughter is six years old, not five, and Nicolas Cage's character, Cameron Poe, is serving a seven-year sentence, not ten. If you guys are going to make fun of a movie try watching it first!

Johnny Hornbeck II
Pontiac, IL

Becky — We had a full editorial conference regarding your letter. It was agreed (in a close vote) that perhaps the writer and/or artist and/or at least one editor should see the movie, or at least the longer version of the trailer, before publishing a satire on it. Thanks for the nifty suggestion, which we are implementing immediately in Issue #364! That issue will contain our classic spoof of the film Contact where Jodie Foster and Matthew Modine team up to shoot down a Death Star-like, Rubik's Cube-shaped spaceship at the urging of President Harrison Ford. Enjoy! —Ed.

Mari — Couldn't find the message?
Well here's a message straight from the entire MAD staff just to you (to be read out loud in a high-pitched shrill)
SCHMUUUCK!!! —Ed.

GUFFAW-FAW-FAW!

I want to ask the editor a question about issue #359's letters page in which a fan's letter is being answered about something pertaining to Garfield. What in the name of hell does "guffawing" mean? You, once again, supplied a nonsensical word/phrase to screw up readers' thought processes! I would appreciate some sort of appropriate explanation.

DEAD LETTER

In your "Celebrity Cause-of-Death Betting Odds" feature, the odds of n:1 imply a probability of $1/(n+1)$, so Courtney Love's probability of dying is 1.083356282, Richard Simmons' is 0.842857168 and Kathie Lee Gifford's is 0.614718615. CONDOM-NATION

You sexist pigs have done it once again! In "Condom Buying for Dummies" (MAD #359) there was not one girl buying condoms. Now, I realize that guys have a bigger sex drive, but that's no excuse. Safe sex is a guy's and girl's responsibility. Hugs & kisses (and naughty little wishes)!

Melanie Johnston
Ontario, Canada

Mellie Mel — What? You can use condoms for safe sex? Wow! We always use them for water balloons and smuggling doritos into class (you know, like those drug mules)! Next thing you know you'll be telling us that you can use a diaphragm for something other than a frisbee! —Ed.

IDENTITY FOR TWO DEPT.

This summer, John Travolta and Nicolas Cage teamed up to star in the best action flick of the year! Of course, the competition was Batman & Robin, Speed 2 and Con Air! (Need we say more?) Frankly, we're getting tired of Hollywood producers who think they can sucker us into the theater with another overblown, mega-violent, brainless explosion-fest! We wish those guys would just...

I'm Worn Arches, an FBI agent who heads a covert anti-terrorist unit! Our operation is so secret even the government doesn't know it exists! To protect our identities, our paychecks are blank! I'm going broke working here! I even have an unlisted Social Security number, so I can't retire! But I won't quit until I capture that psychopathic criminal, Casting Ploy! The only perk of working for this agency is that I can murder just about anybody — good guy, bad guy, and everything in between! James Bond may have a license to kill, but I have a license to kill, maim, slaughter, and slingblade — just as long as it's in my quest to capture my arch-rival!

That would be me, Casting Ploy! I'm responsible for countless terrorist bombings, numerous cold-blooded murders and altering the expiration dates on milk cartons! I'm also responsible for killing Worn Arches' son, but that was a mistake! I wanted to murder Worn Arches himself — turns out when you open fire into a crowd of innocent children riding a carousel, accidents can happen! Who knew? So now he's vowed to get revenge! I mean, what's the big deal? So I killed his son! He has another kid! What is he, some kind of pro-life fanatic?

I'm Grief Arches, Worn Arches' neurosurgeon wife! Thank God for that! Considering his non-existent job and income to match, at least we have some money coming in! Up till now I've never been with another man, but as you'll soon see, that changes even though it doesn't change at all! Confused? Stick around! It gets a lot worse!

I'm Jammies Arches, the typically atypical daughter! Talk about uptight, my dad is so strict he wouldn't give me permission to get my tongue pierced, so I had my nose pierced instead! He still got mad! Then he turns around and gets his whole face changed! Parents are such hypocrites!

I'm Sucha Hustler! I'm Casting Ploy's gun-toting, over-sexed girlfriend! I'm also the mother of his illegitimate child, who I raise in the home of my ultra-violent, drug-dealing brother! And I'm the POSITIVE role model in this flick!

F*!@/OFF

Ploy, there's a helicopter on our tail!

I don't care if we're being followed, take off!

No! There's a helicopter on our tail for real! Some jerk landed it there!

When will the government realize the runways are too crowded, and hire some new air traffic controllers!?! I can just about see the name of the airline on that plane — Con Air! I'm not surprised! A guy that looked like Ploy was spotted flying Con Air earlier this summer!

Do you think driving this plane through the hangar door will get Worn Arches off our tail?

No, but we're trying to set a record for the most glass ever broken in a major motion picture, so shattering this many panes in one shot is hard to pass up!

Wow, this is the first time I've flown...with-out an airplane! Do I earn frequent flyer mileage for this kind of flying, Worn??

That's something you won't have to worry about, pal! You're gonna die!

I may die, Worn, but my memory lingers on! I've planted a bomb and you'll never guess where!

On movie screens all across the country?

Casting is in a coma — a real bad coma!

What are these burn marks on his chest?

We're using him as an ashtray! I said it's a real bad coma!

An ashtray — so he's helping to keep our environment clean! This is the most useful he's ever been!

With Casting in a coma, there's no way to find that bomb he planted before it goes off!

There is one possibility! His brother who designed the bomb is in jail! If we lock you up in there, he might tell you where the bomb is! He wouldn't talk to you, but if you weren't you, then that different you would have a real chance at finding out! You understand?

Which "you" are you talking to? You or you?

We can take your face and temporarily replace it with Ploy's!

Switching faces? What's the danger involved?

That audiences will laugh us right off the screen, but it's worth a shot!

Worn, you can't tell your wife about this operation!

That's bad news!

But there's good news, too! You can max out all of Ploy's credit cards and you'll never have to pay a penny of it!

Okay, let's start! I don't need any anesthesia! This dialogue is putting me out!

This is going to be a very delicate and bizarre operation! Above all, I don't want any laughing! Ready?

Ready, doctor!

Let's begin. Laser shears... exacto knife... staple gun... double-sided masking tape... crazy glue... paper clips... one of those little springy things... no, make that two of those little springy things... styptic pencil... BIG styptic pencil!

Doc, I look exactly like Ploy, but I still sound like me!

Normally, I would plant a microchip on your larynx that would make you sound like Ploy! But this is a magazine, so what you sound like doesn't matter!

Worn, you have ten minutes to completely heal and then you're off to prison to get your "brother" to talk about where "you" planted the bomb! Don't drop the ball!

GUIDE TO DATING

Jenkins

knows that women are turned on by intimate exchanges of feelings and gentle gestures of tenderness.

Melvin

considers "pull my finger" to be his best opening line.

Jenkins

always remembers to open the car door for his date when she enters and exits the vehicle.

Melvin

always asks his date to check the oil and tire pressure when she's through working the pump.

Jenkins

takes his date to the ballet to celebrate the glory of the human form in motion.

Melvin

takes his date to nude female mud wrestling for the same reason.

Jenkins

always makes an effort to show his blind date a good time, even though she may not be his type. After all, she has feelings, too.

Melvin

knows that squeezing through a packed crowd at a concert is the best way to ditch a fat chick while cruising for a replacement.

Jenkins

orders a succulent six-course meal, impressing his date with his command of the French language.

Melvin

lets his date yell into the clown.

Jenkins

makes it a point to spend a lot of time cuddling with his lover as a means of forming strong emotional bonds.

Melvin

waits until his lover is asleep before going through her purse and raiding her refrigerator.

Jenkins

always remembers his girlfriend's birthday with a thoughtful card, flowers and dinner at her favorite restaurant.

Melvin

gets his girlfriend a subscription to Hustler so he'll have something to read while she does his laundry.

Jenkins

always ends a relationship gently and with respect for the delicate feelings of his partner.

A MAD LOOK AT

With all the high profile criminal cases in the news lately, a new kind of media celebrity has emerged — the defense attorney. But with all the hoopla, it's tough to get an exclusive with these guys, unless you're really good at kissing ass! So we went right to the best — Colon O'Brien and his cherubic sidekick, Andy Sphincter!

MAD INTERVIEWS THE DEFENSE ATTORNEY OF THE YEAR

ARTIST: TIMOTHY SHAMEY

WRITER: STAN HART

We're here with Irving Putana, the man who the American Bar Association says is the best criminal defense attorney in the country! Mr. Putana, what made you decide to become a lawyer? Do you have a passion for seeing that justice is served?

What a stupid question! If justice was ever served, most of my clients would be in prison faster than you can say "Tim McVeigh"! Man, no wonder you always have to play second banana to this string bean!

That's an enormous picture you have framed on your wall!

Yes, this man is a great hero to defense attorneys! With a guy like Judge Lance Ito on the bench, we can't lose!

What kind of cases do you handle?

Everything from tobacco companies to serial killers! Come to think of it, there ain't a hell of a lot of difference between the two!

Mr. Putana, what qualities do you look for when selecting members of the jury?

I seek out the people who can understand the gravity of the client's crime and who have a strong sense of right and wrong! Then I have them disqualified and try to find semi-literate morons whose bosses can give them six months off from their jobs because they won't be missed! Hey, Sphincter, you wanna be on a jury?

Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, I ask you, Is my client a killer? That all depends on what you call "killing"! Isn't society the REAL killer? Isn't society the one that denied this young man his God-given right as an American to life, liberty and cable TV? How do you think he felt seeing white people in Nike sneakers while he wore only knockoffs from Payless? Society has destroyed his soul and now the State wants you to finish the job by destroying his body! If you find him guilty, you become part of the problem! You become killers yourselves!

Notice how I made the perpetrator into the victim? That works especially well with minority juries! It's their chance to even the score for all the crappy things society has done to them!

Isn't that "Playing the Race Card"?

Hey, I'd play a baseball card if it'd help me win! Let's get out of here, I've got other cases to work on!

But aren't you interested in what happens to your client?

Sure! I told him to call me if anyone contacts him with a book or TV movie deal!

This guy was picked up for burglary when he was 15 and charged as a minor! This is a hearing to set the trial date! I'll ask for a postponement!

Will the judge grant it?

He has for the past three years! In fact, by the time my client goes to trial, he'll be too old to be classified as a juvenile to be sent to a Youth Detention Facility! There'll be no place to send him except back home!

Shakespeare and Dickens wrote about "the law's delay"!

Yeah! Ain't it a real thing of beauty?

How do you answer the accusation that defense lawyers like you put killers back on the city streets?

I feel that every person has a constitutional right to a vigorous defense! Besides, I live in a secure, gated community in the suburbs, so what the hell do I care?

One of my favorite tactics is to use the system to get my guilty client off!

But if he's guilty, how does the justice system work for him?

Not the justice system — the PRISON system! Once I describe the dangerous conditions and the prevalence of inmate rapes in our penitentiaries, most juries are unwilling to send anyone there!

This is called "Plea Bargaining"! In this process, each side gives a little to get a little! For instance, instead of my client being tried for first degree murder and perhaps getting life in prison, we bargain and the District Attorney asks for a five-year sentence, of which my guy will only have to serve two years!

What does the District Attorney get in return?

His usual Wednesdays and Fridays off to campaign for a higher office — which he wouldn't get if we had gone to trial!

Did you ever have a client who you grew to hate?

Only one — a doctor in a malpractice suit! He went behind my back and paid the plaintiff a million dollars to settle the case!

Why did he do that?

It was cheaper than paying my fee!

How do you feel about letting TV cameras into the courtroom? Don't you think it trivializes the proceedings and makes a show out of something that's very important?

No, I think TV in the courtroom serves two purposes simultaneously! One, it gives the public the information it is entitled to and two, it's a great place for defense attorneys like me or Johnnie Cochran to audition for our own talk shows! What, you think you're the only no-talent with no broadcasting experience who gets his own TV show, O'Brien? Today, it's Cochran & Company — tomorrow it'll be Putana & Company!

Was there ever a case where you felt bad that you won?

Actually, yes! He was accused of child abuse and I got him off scot-free!

And why do you regret it? Because he's a menace to society?

No! Because if he had been convicted, I had a deal worked out! As part of my fee I would have gotten his Knicks tickets!

This guy's the country's most powerful drug lord! You're representing him, too?

Yeah, but just between us, a lawyer half as smart as me could get him off! Big-time drug lords NEVER get convicted! Only the little guys serve time!

Isn't that a terrible message to send to our nation's youth?

Not at all! It tells them that if you do something, be good at it!

One of the most potent weapons defense attorneys have is DNA evidence!

Why? Because it never fails to prove innocence?

No, because it never fails to cause confusion! Once we call in our scientific experts to "explain" how DNA testing works, the jury is so perplexed or bored, the evidence is meaningless! Thank God the average juror has the attention span of a three-year-old!

Was there ever a case that no matter how hard you tried, how clever you were, you just couldn't win?

It hurts me to admit this, but last year I lost my first case! I just had no idea how to defend him! In all my years as a defense attorney, I never came across anyone like that before!

What was the problem?

He was innocent, so I didn't have a strategy to get him off! He got 12 years!

As parting words of wisdom, share with us your vision of the future!

I'm not optimistic! Just look at the latest crime statistics!

But they show that the crime rate is dropping!

I know — that's the problem! In a couple of years, I'm going to be out of business! Case closed!

TAKING THE WIND OUT OF THEIR SALES DEPT.

They came along in the fifties and sixties and changed the face of consumerism. Shopping malls brought the retail world to a central location in the suburbs and left the inner city a bleak landscape. Today, thanks to overexpansion, catalog shopping, QVC and the Internet, many of the once-bustling malls are becoming vast expanses of empty stores! Is your favorite mall hitting the skids? You'll have a better idea after perusing...

The arcade area is down to a Pong game and some fat guy who'll play checkers with you for a buck.

THE DEAD-ON SYMPTOMS OF A DYING SHOPPING MALL

The mall has switched to an all-volunteer security force.

Instead of having to memorize the lot and section where you parked your car, you need only recall, "Oh, yeah! Mine's the green one!"

Upon closer observation, you realize that the mall Santa and his helpers are actually members of a prison chain gang.

The annual mall-wide auto show consists entirely of some guy trying to peddle an '85 Ford Tempo.

The pet shop sells nothing but scarred and shaven lab animals.

Suddenly, and without fanfare, the mall's anchor store has become a Salvation Army Thrift Shop.

SETI AS SHE GOES DEPT.

When we recently saw the trailer for a certain Jodie Foster/Matthew McConaughey film we were psyched: it looked to be the best outer space flick in a long time! But alas there were no gory aliens, no cool light saber battles, no thrilling jumps to hyperspace, no high-speed intergalactic chases and no teeth-rattling laser blasts! It was just a bunch of preachy, pseudo-intellectual, faux-religious Carl Sagan redux tripe! They could have made a bad-assed action flick, but instead they took the...

C

I'm Dr. Ellie Outaways, astronomer! I've always been fascinated by the outer galaxies! When I was a kid, I spent endless hours calling into outer space, trying to make contact! But the only contact I ever made was with my angry neighbors, who told me to stop using a megaphone and start using a radio transmitter! I had a very supportive father! He bought me my first telescope! I used it to scan the stars in the heavens! He used it to scan the motels on the hill! He said we were both looking for heavenly bodies!

I'm Palmer Loss, advisor to the President on religion! I tell him how far he can stretch the truth without it being a real bad sin! I'm a busy man! I believe God made man, and my mission is to make women — like Ellie! And I believe I can do it! Real belief can make miracles!

I'm David Humdrum, the President's science advisor! I keep the President up-to-date on the latest scientific matters! Right now I'm supposed to prepare a report on future space ventures between the United States and Russia, but you can bet nothing's going to happen in that area until the Cold War finally ends and the Berlin Wall comes down — but that could take forever!

Greetings! I'm Rachel Constant-Pain! It's my job to protect the President by keeping the press at a distance! I've always been able to do that with a smile and a few kind words! Of course, this administration is so corrupt I have to keep the press at a distance with an Uzi and a few hand grenades!

RNTACT

I'm Michael Kidz, National Security Advisor! I may act like an old fart, but in truth, I'm a MIDDLE-AGED fart! You may notice my acting style has gotten a little over the top lately! A little cartoonish even! It fit perfectly in my last role as Hades' voice in Disney's Hercules! In this movie I'm not sure what the hell acting style I'm using!

I'm Dr. Bent Bark! I may not be able to see, but I can use my highly sensitive ears to listen for subtle sounds from outer space! Quite frankly, as far as this movie is concerned, not being able to see is an asset! I only have to LISTEN to this endless pretentious dialogue!

I'm R.S. HasBeen, multimillionaire! Believe it or not, I actually live on an airplane! I guess you could call me the ultimate frequent flyer mileage junkie! I earn mileage 24 hours a day, 365 days a year! The downside? When you have an entire 747 to yourself, being upgraded to first class doesn't mean much!

I'm President Clinton! With today's special effects, producers can put me in movies that I didn't really act in! And they can put words in my mouth too! Although that's no big deal — just about anyone with enough money to donate to my campaign has been able to do that since I first ran for office!

WRITER: DICK DEBARTOLO
ARTIST: SAM VIVIANO

We sure hit it off fast! We met once and ended up in bed! It's strange, because I don't really believe in religion!

And I don't believe in aliens! But now, thanks to you, I DO believe in the Big Bang Theory! Cigarette?

I'm sorry your father passed away! I can't tell you the reason why people die! Just accept it as God's way to test our faith!

I don't believe in God!

Then just accept it as the screenwriter's way to move the audience to cheap tears!

That I can believe!

I blame myself for my dad's death!

Don't! You're just a child and you tried to get him his medication!

True, but for some reason, I ran all the way to the bathroom and back in slow motion! I think that did him in!

Maybe, but slow motion looks so good in flashbacks! You lost a father, but you gained a nice visual effect!

Still on the look-out for little green men from outer space?

Green men! Give me a break! They would be much more advanced! They might be blue, orange or maybe even plaid!

Well, we'll never know, because this project is done! We're wasting millions of dollars out here! The government can waste that money in other ridiculous areas!

Since the government abandoned my alien search project, I'm looking for private funding!

We're sorry, but this "looking for life in outer space" thing is too scatter-brained for us to back!

They said the airplane was a scatter-brained idea, too! But where would we be today without the airplane?

At Penn Station waiting for a train! And I'd know the location of my luggage! And it would be in one piece!

Dr. Outaways' project doesn't sound scatter-brained to me one bit! Now give her the money, then bring me my lucky crystals and some pixie dust!

I'm finally hearing signals from outer space! Turn those knobs! Fiddle with those switches! Tune in that big thing!

What happened to all your scientific jargon?

We've gone so many years without hearing anything from outer space. I've forgotten most of the technical terms!

Leave her alone! I don't care what she sounds like, as long as she doesn't start talking like Nell again!

As the President's Security Advisor, I must know what's going on here!

I think we're picking up Vega!

Really? I don't hear Wayne Newton...

Not Vegas — Vega! There's a big difference! Vega may have intelligent life — and no Elvis impersonators!

BAH-BOOMP-BAH-BOOMP-BAH-BOOMP

They're sending us numbers...

Screw the President — they might be sending us winning lottery numbers! Did they mention a state? I need a state! Ask them!

I can't figure out the sequence of these numbers! If you add the top numbers, they don't come to this bottom number! Something's missing!

That could be it! They might be sending us their expense accounts!

We made contact with aliens at last!

Great! I can't wait to tell the President about my discovery!

It was MY discovery! You always take credit for everything I've done!

Not true! When your department went $8 million over budget, I gave you full credit when I spoke to the President!

We finally decoded the messages! We thought we'd have to use a supercomputer until we realized we had the pages upside down!

These pages contain instructions for a machine!

And how do you figure that?

These little notations! Tab A, to flap B, to tab C — and this folds into...

A Fold-in! Let's get Al Jaffee in here to help!

This selection committee of theologians, educators, and hangers-on is here to select one of the ten international contenders to ride the alien spaceship! Dr. Outaways, do you believe in God?

I prayed you wouldn't ask that question, and you did — so I guess I don't!

Because of you and your God thing, I lost my chance to go into outer space! They're sending Humdrum instead!

It was a close call! You really beat Humdrum out in the swimsuit competition! If you hadn't dropped the flaming baton in the talent portion, my guess is you would have been chosen!

I'm no scientist, but isn't that space vehicle supposed to fly up, instead of fly apart?

Gary Busey's son blew it up — talk about a chip off the old block!

Humdrum was in the middle of the explosion! It's a national disaster!

Damn! He always gets credit for everything!

KABLAM!

I have good news for you, Doctor! We built a second space travel machine! Fortunately, we put an extra $3 trillion in the original budget under "miscellaneous"! No one ever checks budgets that are paid for with taxpayer dollars! Wanna take a ride, Ellie?

I want to ride in that vehicle more than anything in the world — except maybe the Back to the Future ride at Universal Studios! But the line for that is so long!

Helping with this project will be the last thing I do on this earth! I'm dying, you know!

No, all this airline food! It's my entire diet! My doctors are amazed I lasted THIS long!

Cancer?

It takes years for an astronaut to learn how to blast off into space! What kind of astronaut training did Dr. Outaways have?

It wasn't exactly astronaut training, but NASA made her spend an entire weekend at a Six Flags Park! She survived, so they're sending her up!

Remember, Doctor, you have the capsule for 10 days, or we'll have to pay an extra daily rental rate of $80,000 plus $21,000 a mile! And be sure to return it to THIS launching pad, or they'll hit us with a $300,000 drop-off charge! One other thing — pilot carefully because we didn't take the collision waiver!

There's fierce v-v-vibrations! I'm going through a w-w-wormhole! V-v-vibrations getting worse! I'm going t-t-through an anxiety attack! Even w-w-worse v-v-vibrations n-n-now! I'm g-g-going t-t-through the w-w-wind-s-s-shield!

Wow! I'm in a tranquil, peaceful, restful place! The water is crystal clear and the sands are pure white! I haven't seen such an idyllic place since I painted it as a kid!

Hello, Doctor!

Are you my father?

I look like your father, but I'm actually a real estate agent! Would you like to buy some property here?

Is — is this place heaven?

For $8,000 down and $1,750 a month, it can be! This is Virtual Reality Acres! Everything's an illusion but your mortgage payments!

What's happening? Everything was so clear and now it's getting cloudy!

Quick, sign this contract before it's too late, and I lose my commission! A lot of people come to look, but very few actually buy!

That was some experience! I was actually in outer space!

Outer space, nothing! You didn't go anywhere, Doctor! We had a VCR running inside the capsule, and all it shows is 48 Hours with Dan Rather!

What?!? No Friends? No Seinfeld? No Must See TV? Damn! I have a doctorate in science, but I STILL can't figure out how to program the @!*& VCR!

This is weird! We lost track of Outaways in the pod for only 30 seconds, but the VCR recorded 18 hours of TV! She did go into some sort of time warp! Somehow she turned 30 seconds into 18 hours! This is the most astounding time shift ever known to man!

Actually, it's the second most astounding! The first most astounding belongs to the producers of this film! They made two and a half hours seem like an eternity!
